Edgcombe County Health Department's Diabetes Education Program is a three tier program offering education, nutrition, and exercise to the citizens of Edgcombe County. It is the mission of the program to improve the treatment and outcomes for people with diabetes, to promote early diagnosis and ultimately prevent the onset of diabetes.

The Diabetes Education Program has been an extreme success in Edgcombe County. The program reported in their 2010/2011 Annual Report that 100% of active participants have been free of hospitalizations due to diabetes complications, 100% of active participants demonstrated increased scores on their pre and post tests, 77% of active participants decreased or maintained their weight, 74% of active participants have shown a decrease of stability in their HgbA1c, 92% of active participants had an annual eye exam, 81% of active participants had an annual dental exam.

Due to the tremendous success of the Diabetes Education Program on October 1, 2011 the program expanded to encompass cerebrovascular and cardiovascular diseases. The program plans to implement Living Healthy, Eat Smart Move More Weigh Less, and Freedom From Smoking as new educational tools. This program is one of a kind in Edgcombe County. It is a chronic disease self management program designed to improve health care outcomes for the under and uninsured.

Top 3 Leading Causes of Death in Edgecombe County

In 2009, the top leading causes of death in Edgecombe County were Heart Disease, Cancer, and Cerebrovascular Disease. Over the past 5 years, Heart Disease has remained the #1 leading cause of death in our county, with the exception of 2004, in which Cancer was the leading cause of death.

Chronic diseases such as heart disease, cancer, stroke and even diabetes, are the most preventable of all health problems, and the most costly. "Seven of ten Americans who die each year, or more than 1.7 million people, die of a chronic disease" (Centers for Disease Control and Prevention). The major contributor to chronic disease such as heart disease and cancer is the lifestyle's that individual's lead. Tobacco use, lack of physical activity, and poor nutrition are three prime examples.
