I. The Community Assessment Team and Assessment Process

The Edgecombe County Health Department took the lead role in the community health assessment process. An advisory group of 32 was formed with a variety of community members and leaders. From the advisory group, a work group of 12 was formed, including the Edgecombe County Health Department Health Education Team.

The survey tool used was a modified version of the “Compass Survey” used by the United Way in Cleveland County, North Carolina. The Edgecombe County Community Survey was distributed throughout the county by means of the advisory and work groups. The community survey included questions about the economy, education, environment, health, housing, leisure, safety, social issues, and transportation. In addition to the community survey, a Key Informant Survey was mailed out to local business owners/leaders, agency directors, board of health members, county commissioners, town officials, health care providers, leaders from county departments, churches, civic groups, law enforcement, and fire and rescue.

The Epi Info Program was used to analyze the survey results. Major issues were identified as 50% or higher from the community and key informant surveys. Secondary data was analyzed, and major issues were identified as well. A total of fifteen issues were identified for the prioritization process. The advisory group met and used a rating/prioritization worksheet to identify the top priorities for Edgecombe County. The criteria used for selecting health priorities were as follows: Magnitude of the Problem; Seriousness of the Consequences; and Feasibility of Correcting. The advisory group came to a consensus, and two major issues were selected as the top priorities.

The Edgecombe County Health Department works with a variety of agencies and communities within the county. Through the community health assessment process we have expanded and strengthened our relationships. The advisory group and work group will continue to meet and work on the action plan. Our intentions are to reestablish our Healthy Carolinians group through this process.

II. A Picture of Edgecombe County

a. Geographic Information

Edgecombe County is in the eastern section of the state. It is bordered by Halifax County on the north, Nash County on the west, Wilson County on the southwest, Pitt County on the southeast and Martin County on the east. Only 65 miles from the state capitol of Raleigh, the county is strategically in the center of a rapidly growing region along the main corridor between the Piedmont and the Outer Banks, and is only 25 miles from I-95.

- Town of Tarboro is the county seat of Edgecombe County and is considered one of the oldest towns in the state. It is located in the center of the county and is the home of the main office of the Edgecombe County Health Department and the only hospital in the county, Heritage Hospital, as well as three medical clinics, Tarboro Clinic, Tarboro Women's Center, and Freedom Hill Clinic.
- The City of Rocky Mount, the 12th largest metropolitan area in the state, is situated in the heart of I-95 and the US 64 corridors, which is geographically centered between New York and Florida. A branch office of the Edgecombe County Health Department is located on Atlantic Avenue. Oakwood Medical Center is also located in Rocky Mount.
- Macclesfield is located 3 miles west of NC 124, which intersects US 258 about 12 miles south of Tarboro. Medical services are provided by Macclesfield Health Care Center, which is affiliated with Heritage Hospital in Tarboro.
- Pinetops is located in the southern area of Edgecombe County, 17 miles from Rocky Mount and Wilson, 11 miles from Tarboro. The Town has its own police department, volunteer fire department and emergency services by the Pinetops Rescue Squad.
- Princeville was incorporated on February 20, 1885 and is the oldest city chartered by Blacks in America. It is located across the Tar River, south of Tarboro.
- Conetoe is located 8 miles east of Tarboro. The Conetoe Volunteer Fire Department answers fire and first responder calls. The Edgecombe County Sheriff's Department is responsible for crime control and public safety.

Interstates, Highways and Main Roads

- US 64 travels east to west, it connects Edgecombe County on the west to Raleigh and traveling east to the beautiful Outer Banks of North Carolina.
- US 258 runs from north to south through the heart of Edgecombe County.
- NC 43 travels north south to the coastal plains and travels through the Town of Pinetops.
- NC 42 travels east west to the Piedmont/Coastal Plain and travels through the Towns of Conetoe and Pinetops.

b. Historical Information

Edgecombe County was formed in 1732 from Bertie County by proclamation of the Governor. The assembly did not confirm its creation until 1741. The county was named for Richard Edgecombe, who became Baron Edgecombe, an English Nobleman. It covers a 505 square mile area, which remains primarily rural. The Town of Tarboro is the County seat. It was incorporated in 1760 and is located on the Tar River. It has a history of a thriving river port throughout the 18th and 19th centuries and Tarboro was once considered as a candidate for North Carolina's capital city.

Twenty-six individual properties including the historic district of Tarboro are listed in the National Register of Historic Places. Many are in or near Tarboro, the county seat. They include: The Barracks, Calvary Episcopal Church, Coolman Plantation, Blount-Bridgers House, Oakland Plantation, the Town Common, and the Railroad Depot Complex.

The Barracks

The Barracks gets its name from a military encampment that once occupied this site.

In 1999, over 49% of Edgecombe County was flooded after Hurricanes Dennis, Floyd and Irene dumped over 30 inches of rain in less than two weeks. The Tar River had crest at 43 feet above flood stage, leaving more than 6,500 (10%) of the total population of the county housed in emergency shelters. Many of the county's roads were impassable. The county was virtually an island as roads were either covered with water or blocked by fallen trees and downed power lines. Hundreds of homes were flooded causing many families to be displaced for months throughout Edgecombe County.

In addition, the Edgecombe County Prevent Maintenance Program served 625 citizens through training/educational workshops, as well as distributed lead educational material throughout Edgecombe County.

IV. Community Concerns/Priorities

A community survey was conducted March through August 2010, in order to provide residents an opportunity to express their opinions and concerns about the quality of life in Edgecombe County. The survey contained questions about the economy, education, environment, health, housing, leisure, safety, social issues, and transportation. Survey participants were asked to assess a variety of community issues and to score them as either major problems, moderate problems, minor problems or not a problem.

Surveys were distributed at strategic sites throughout the county in order to reach a variety of residents. A total of 760 surveys were collected, of which, 623 surveys were eligible. The age range of citizens answering the survey was fairly even – respondent's age ranged from under 18 to over 65 years old. Both female (74.1%) and males (25.9%) participated in the survey. Citizen's race was primarily black (63.4%) and white (28%). Twenty-nine percent of respondents were high school graduates, 21.6% had some college, and 24% had less than a high school diploma.

In addition to the community survey, a key informant survey was sent out to 65 local business owners/leaders, agency directors, board of health members, county commissioners, town officials, health care providers, leaders from county departments, churches, civic groups, law enforcement, and fire and rescue. Key informants were asked questions on community strengths in addition to the community survey questions. Forty-seven surveys were returned. The majority of respondents were white (64.4%; black 31.1%), age 40 to 54 (42.6%), and female 52.3% (male 47.7%).

Based on the findings from the community and key informant surveys, combined with the health data, the Edgecombe County Community Health Assessment Advisory Group identified 15 chief health and social concerns for the county. The top health and community concerns are as follows: Lack of Jobs, Unemployment or Underemployment, Teen Pregnancy, Overweight & Obesity, Chronic Disease, Poverty, Drug Abuse, HIV/AIDS/STD's, Crime, Lack of Affordable Medical Care, Lack of Affordable Child Care, Gangs, Family Violence/Child Abuse, Illiteracy, and Alcohol Abuse.

After reviewing and discussing this information, the Edgecombe County Advisory Group members participated in rating the top 2 out of 15 community concerns using a Prioritization Worksheet. The worksheet asked that each of the issues be ranked according to three criteria: Magnitude of the Problem, Seriousness of the Consequences, and Feasibility of Correcting the Problem. Results of these worksheets were calculated to come up with the top 2 priorities, which are as follows:

Selected Priority Issues

- 1. Overweight & Obesity
- 2. Chronic Disease

Although many concerns have been identified through the community health assessment, positive strengths were identified as well. One of the questions asked of the community was “What do you like about where you live?” The following answers were provided by the citizens of Edgecombe County.

- Access to most places: close to work; close to city; affordable.
- Community: feel safe; comfortable; country living; family friendly; friendly people; clean; good neighborhoods; quite; private; low crime; churches; slow pace; small town; little traffic; not crowded; good place to raise a family; elderly neighbors; neighbors look out for each other.
- Close to family: home town/family here; friends; know most of the people.
- Economy: Affordable housing.
- Services: Well patrolled; fire protection..
- Environment: Clean; water park in Rocky Mount.

Rating/Prioritization Worksheets

Rating/Prioritizing Community Health Issues

Recommended Criteria for Selecting Health Priorities

Magnitude of the Problem

How many persons does the problem affect, either actually or potentially?

Seriousness of the Consequences

What degree of disability or premature death occurs because of the problem? What are the potential burdens to your community, such as economic or social burdens?

Feasibility of Correcting

Is the problem amenable to interventions (i.e., Is the intervention feasible scientifically as well as acceptable to the community?) What technology, knowledge, or resources are necessary to effect a change? Is the problem preventable?
