Rev. Higgs stated that with the recent health rankings of Edgecombe County and the School system the County Commissioners need to challenge the Boards that sit over these agencies to see if they can do more to bring awareness because you cannot continue to treat a crisis situation as if it were not a crisis. He stated that in 1993 a study was done on Edgecombe County and it showed that the County looked like a third world country. He stated that we need to do better.

Ms. Kimberly Hickerson, 7175 Hunter Ridge Road, Rocky Mount, Twin Counties Disaster Recovery Group, came forth to provide an update stating that the group assist survivors of Hurricane Matthew with unmet needs if they are not able to get assistance from FEMA or other organizations. Ms. Hickerson stated that April 10th is the deadline for the survivors to move out of the FEMA manufactured housing units, so they still have families that are attempting to transition. They have run out of resources and are anxiously applying for grants to continue doing the things they do. She stated that they also need the participation of business leaders and churches to help to support families.

There are opportunities where small businesses can receive resources if their commitment is to create jobs.
